INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 Landers's musicians are just now rendering Leutner's festival overture in a master-ful manner. The beautiful music adds spirit to this scene of gayety.

Search the world around and no piace can be found to vie with the good City of Churches in providing a bewildering, pretty turnout to the race track on days when every inch of the way for a fortune, and the halo of glory that surrounds success.

The Futurity Stakes, in all probability the cided here this afternoon, and although there is an hour before the race is to be called the grand stand is already a picture f indescribable beauty.

The entire length of its attractive architectural front is gay with bright, ammated faces, lovely because they belong to Brook-Ivn and New York's fairest daughters; attractive because, like fairest of gems, they are set in raiments of dazzling beauty.

Next came the event of the day, and the crowd had now got thoroughly warmed up and the betting ring was a sight in itself. Everybedry was rushing here and there trying to place their money to the best advantage, and the horses were at the post before many could execute their commissions.

The Association posted a notice to the effect that owing to the difference in weight there would be no parade of the Futurity candidates.

there would be no parade of the Puturity candidates.
In the opening betting Potomac was the favorite at 3 to 1, with Ambulance at 4 to 1. Towards the end there was a great plunge on Potomac, and he closed at 13 to 5 favorite.

Montana was the first to show and was loudly applauded, the others followed quickly and were all soon at the post.

The Morris pair did not go past the stand, but went directly from the stables.

PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., AUK. 30.—The authorities are to-day investigating a desperate attempt made at a late hour last night to assassinate W. T. Wheeler, beeretary and Treasurer of the Port Jefferson Milling Company.

He was driving home in a buggy, and while passing a lonely place heard a pisted shot. The bullet, which was evidently intended for Mr. Wheeler, struck the horse in the head.

Possibility That People's Municipal League Lightning May His H.m.

Henry George is expected to arrive from his Australian lecture trip to-day or tomorrow. The lantern of at least one People's Municipal League Diogenes is said to be trimmed and berning, and its glimmer is expected to be seen around the dock about the time Henry lands.

The 18,000 votes cast for Mr. George for Mayor, in 1883, has suggested him as a possible Reform candidate this year.
